

Standard Operating Procedure

This document describes the standard procedure for equipment calibration.
All steps below must be followed exactly as written in this synthetic fixture.

Equipment Calibration Requirements

Calibration intervals are defined per instrument classification below.

Records of every calibration event must be retained for audit purposes here.

Record Retention Policy

All calibration records are retained for a minimum of seven years per policy.
Retention periods align with applicable regulatory guidance documents cited.